Les Fanflures Brass Band, Jumping in with both feet!

Hailing from Toulouse, Les Fanflures BB are a sometimes stage-bound, sometimes ambulatory Brass Band that buzzes with a contagious and brawny New Orleans style Jazz Funk.

In pure contemporary New Orleans style (trombones / trumpets / sax / sousaphone / bass drum / snare drum), the 8 members of Les Fanflures BB cook up their own sauce: simmer some jazz funk sounds, sprinkle with a dash of New Orleans groove, and stir energetically to reveal the spicy zest of Swing and of the Caribbean. Leave it to broil then scrape the bottom, because that simply isn't done... but is always the best!

Did you say New Orleans Funk ?!

New Orleans Jazz Funk, a style in its own right, is more rarely heard yet equally cherished every time it hits the streets.

As a genre that has remained close to New Orleans Jazz, all the while keeping the beat of Swing close to its bones, it often moves close to the Caribbean to form a Jazz-Funk-Latin golden triangle.

This is the kind of zesty mix that Les Fanflures BB likes to brew up and shout on every rooftop and every street corner to whoever will lend them an ear!

Once upon a time...

Late February 2013... because he is curious, passionate, and fairly ballsy, Gabriel Ray "Gaby" grabs his trombone and leaves behind the comfort of his hometown of Toulouse to land in New Orleans. Nothing awaits him there, and yet... fortune soon smiles on the young self-taught trombone player. Two days into his stay, it is none other than Delpheayo Marsalis himself who invites Gaby to join him onstage along with the city's best musicians after seeing him breeze in at the Snug Harbour Jazz Club where Marsalis frequently performs with his Big Band. Beyond this point encounters and introductions start to stockpile and, for a couple months, Gaby lets himself sink into the musical universe of New Orleans.

Back in Toulouse, and with all the audacity and energy that characterize him, Gaby rounds up the musicians who will become Les Fanflures Brass Band. Coming from a myriad of styles and backgrounds, each one will let their influences breathe life into a French-version "Gumbo" ensemble (Jazz, Funk, Swing, Latin and French song). Following the example of Trans-Atlantic heavy-hitters, the Hot 8 Brass Band and Rebirth Brass Band directly inspire Les Fanflures BB. Les Fanflures BB is quick to perform in different venues.

... A festive and singular French Brass Band

Les Fanflures BB offer a contemporary music experience marrying the energy of Hip Hop and the groove of Funk with the bounty of the Jazz repertory. Their streetwise music concentrates the kind of positive and communicative energy that is appreciated by European audiences. Simultaneously festive and intergenerational, their sound shines a spotlight on the brass section, voice (vocals and chorus) and solos, all Jazz traditions. With 2 EP's under their belt, the release in late 2016 of their 1st album "Dans Ta Face!" with its titular video clip displays how these effective arrangements emphasize the harmonic possibilities of a musical 8-piece.

Today Les Fanflures Brass Band is broadcasting its music on two fronts:

+ THE STAGE: Audio concert where Les Fanflures BB disseminate high-calibre festive jazz music onstage all the while keeping the energy and mobility of a brass band

+ THE STREET: "Les Fanflures BB New Orleans parade", a wandering, all-acoustic, danced performance.

In close collaboration with 2 Swing Hip-Hop dancers: a meeting point between choreography, performance and audience participation where the dancers lead the audience into the band's vigorous groove.

Les Fanflures BB in person:

Gabriel Ray (trombone)

Self-taught trombonist Gaby established Les Fanflures BB in 2014, where he directs, arranges and composes the repertoire. Concurrently he studies at the Toulouse and Montauban conservatories to perfect his musical knowledge and practice. He performs in different bands including Big Fat Swing.

Manuel Lengrand (trombone)

As a child Manu first started studying classical music at the Nantes conservatory. At 18 he embarked on a Musicology – Jazz degree at the Université de Toulouse, and followed his formation at the Montauban Conservatory where he obtained his Jazz Musical Studies Diploma, simultaneously finalizing his MIMA diploma (Musician Interpreter of Contemporary Music) at the contemporary music school Music'Halle in Toulouse.

Maxime Lescure (trumpet)

Max discovered the trumpet in municipal music school and enrolled at the Montauban Conservatory at 12. He then went on to complete his MIMA diploma in 2013 at the age of 22 at the contemporary music school Music'Halle in Toulouse, and currently performs in different bands including Big Fat Swing, Claire Gimatt Quartet and Alexis Evans.

William Laudinat (trumpete)

He performs with various Toulouse-based acts, notably Supersoul Brothers, Enterré Sous X and BDC Labelle.

Romuald Leroy (alto saxophone)

Romuald first made his way into music through classical piano thanks to the teachings of his grandfather and of instructor Simone Perrier, a classical pianist and Jazz Academy International graduate. The gateway to improvised music opened up at 23 when he took up the saxophone. Throughout his career he has dipped his toes in varied musical projects, from Jazz to Reggae, Latin and Funk: Occidental Indigène, Space Jahourts, etc...

Camille Eissautier ou Alice Behague (sousaphone)

Camille made his debut playing classical violin, later developing an interest in traditional Eastern European music. It was while studying Balkan Rom brass bands in Macedonia in the context of an Anthropology degree from the University of Toulouse that he learned to play sousaphone. In parallel to Les Fanflures BB, he continues to play the violin with the band Kassla Datcha.

A self-taught multi-instrumentalist, Alice has been working the music scene and performance stage for years, armed with an accordion, helicon or sousaphone along the sides of Fanfare P4, Maria Dolorès, La Marmaille, or Vrack.

Nicolas Cabello-Aguilar (snare drum and percussions)

Nico learned to play the drums and perform on stage as a child. He enrolled in JAM, School for Improvisational Music in Montpellier, then Music'Halle in Toulouse where he obtained his MIMA degree. He additionally obtained his Jazz and Improvisational Music Studies Diploma at the Toulouse Conservatory. Evolving along with new encounters, he layers his style with Latin, African and Afro-American influences. He also performs with Titty Twister BB, Work Out and Fulish Orchestra.

Alexis Bullier (bass drum and percussions)

As a child, Alexis started playing the drums at music school in Caen. He soon became interested in a variety of musical styles and subsequently enrolled in the contemporary music school Music'Halle in Toulouse in 2013, obtaining his MIMA diploma in 2016.

"Kicking off 8 days of 'extravadances':

Festival opener Les Fanflures bring together dance and brass band for a New Orleans-inspired experience. Carried by trumpet tunes moving between swing, funk, jazz and French song, the troupe alters and adapts their choreography to take over the urban landscape. A super-charged show composed of 8 musicians and 2 dancers."

(Trombones / Trompettes / Sax / Soubas / Grosse caisse / Caisse claire). les inRocks

Les 10 albums de jazz français qu'il faut écouter d'urgence

Du funk au free, du planant à la fanfare, toutes les bonnes vibrations du jazz français à travers dix albums flamboyants.

Les Fanflures Brass Band, Dans ta face !

Le titre de l'album fait craindre le pire, mais les premières notes rassurent et, bien vite la gaieté qu'il délivre devient contagieuse. On est en fanfare et l'envie de s'amuser prime sur tout. Alors, on descend dans la rue et pour que la fête soit parfaite, la dizaine de cuivres et percussions toulousains se dépense sans compter, n'oubliant pas pour autant de caler ses grooves aux titubations d'un carnaval de haut vol et de lancer ses solos dans l'air printanier. Un peu funk, un peu jazz, totalement fun, ces Fanflures Brass Band réussissent finalement à nous mettre leur sauce dans la face sans jamais nous prendre la tête.
